Hi Janette!

Thank you for reaching out. Dr Li Ma has replaced Byung as the site manager for Rhone Poulenc, I took over Byung's role at Boeing Developmental Center, and Hideo Fujita took over as site manager of the Boeing Renton site.

Sincerely,

Good morning, Christa. I'm the EPA project manager for the former Rhone Poulenc facility that John Long mentioned below. (b) (6) so I'm reaching out to you to find out who is replacing Byung as the Ecology contact for that site. I would like to know who to copy on correspondence, as John asked below. And generally I would like to have an Ecology contact should any issues or questions arise. I didn't have much interaction with Byung but I will have opportunities coming up when I will be asking Ecology and stakeholders for feedback if interested.

Regards,
Janette

Dear Mr. Fujita:

I worked with Byung on the Boeing Renton project, and was informed you are taking over for him on that project (b) (6). I also worked with Byung as our Ecology contact for an EPA-lead cleanup site called the Former Rhone-Poulenc site along the Duwamish River. We produce regular reports for this site and typically sent Byung a copy of each. Should we now send these reports to you or someone else at the Northwest Region?

- John
